

Northern Gateway Alliance

The Northern Gateway Alliance is a community coalition that has been established to support the regulatory review of the Northern Gateway project. The Alliance will provide an opportunity for people in corridor communities and elsewhere to share information about the project, the regulatory review process and how people can participate in the review process.

The Alliance is chaired by Colin Kinsley, the former Mayor of Prince George. Colin was appointed Chairman in January 2009. He has spent 22 years in public service in Northern BC first as a council member in Prince George and then as Mayor from 1996 – 2008. During this time Colin also participated on a number of provincial and federal Boards, Committees and Advisory Groups dealing with issues such as the softwood lumber trade dispute, municipal finance, mountain pine beetle epidemic and rural and remote health in Canada. Colin is paid by Enbridge as Chair of the Alliance. The position is a part-time contract position. Other costs to support the Alliance are also paid by Enbridge.

The Northern Gateway Alliance supports the public review of project benefits including:

- If approved, Northern Gateway can become a means for economic growth across northern BC and northern Alberta.
- The Project would deliver billions of dollars in new capital investment, create thousands of jobs during construction and result in creation of over 500 direct, indirect and induced permanent jobs. The Project would provide long lasting benefits for First Nations communities along the Project corridor.

The Alliance understands that the Northern Gateway project is the most ambitious pipeline project proposal in North America and supports it being reviewed by the Joint Review Panel mandated by the Minister of the Environment and the National Energy Board. The Alliance believes that all voices should be heard through the regulatory review process.
